Be Gentle with thy Wife.

Be gentle, for you little know How many trials there are;
Attempts to train them may be small, Tender, of great vice.
Be gentle, though perchance that up May break a matron's heart;
The hand may feel from kindness yet,
And joy to be their own.
Be gentle, weary heart of pain;
The world is full to bear; These trials are when weepers weep, and All live without share.
Be gentle, for the soldier fears;
They have been more great,
And over a foolish spot May walk in field relief.
Be gentle, for weakness now May rule us angry stroes, That all the other ways of life Are very safe to take.
Be gentle, perchance there are better;
They are easier for their life;
Thus, honest, brave and still heroic, He guides by thy will.

Variety.

The Flower is still to be a rising man is Flora's joy. A Western paper thinks he "comes up like Flora," but may be cut down like grass.

Nothing recalls to the mind of the married man the joys of his single life so vividly as to find that the body has been eating crackers in the bed.

Angoras have adopted many emblems of charity. We number none of them over a piece of a piece of India rubber, which gives more than any other substance.

A Western editor asserts that "it is no use trying to publish a newspaper in a living grave community," which will be readily understood by the initiated.

A little boy asked a lady who made her teeth.
"My Captain," she replied. "Well," said the youngster, "De D— made my m's, and they last year clear out o' sight."

Reading the great Spurgeon's declaration, "A singer is a thing to sing God for; a very young school boy laughs a cop. He was afterwards seen hanging over a fence, but he was not giving thanks.

Sunday School teacher to pupil: "Now, my little one, can you explain to us the cause of Adam's fall?" Little one, emphatically: "Yes, air cause he hadn't any scales to throw on the scales."

The people of Little Rock are given to sur-eases. The body of a man was recently found with many live scabs—scabs in it, and a coroner's jury was summoned to determine the cause of his death.

People who send us "communications" for publication are "requested" not to "quote" and advertisements at MUCH. This is about the only good deal of "matter" would LOOK if we print it as written.

A couple of fellows who were pretty well versed with bad whiskey got into the gutter.
After shuddering about for some time, one of them said, "Let's get to another house, this hotel looks."

The Chicago lake winds are severe. An Eastern man says he knows them to blow the stuff of a clem. If that was not a clem'americus wind, it must be admitted to have been a byam-americus.

A bad little boy in Aberdeen rubbed caprice paper dust all over the back of his jacket. The school master thrashed him briefly, but dismissed the school immediately to run to the nearest chemist for eyewash.

A foolish young clergyman, recently rising to preach for the first time, made a terrible mix of it, and announced his text this wise: "And immediately the flock went, and Peter went out and saw him."

A Dabney boy was rather troubled for fear that he would not know his father when they both reached heaven, but his mother assured him by remarking: "All you have to do is to look for an angel with a red nose."

Dugay says that the popular mode of killing mosquitoes by nailing them between the thumbs and forefingers is dangerous, as it only half kills the insects. Tying knots around their necks and drowning them would have more chance.

Song of the Washington youth since the Adams Express Co.'s lobbyists secured the passage of the double-penalty law: "I want to be a lively soul, and in the lively stand, with beans upon my forehead and greenbacks in my hand."

After Dinsen liked the late exhibit to a fine of concert violence, some conservative members were asking the liberal meaning of the figure. A member of one of the London borghs said promptly, "He meant used-up craters of course."

"Thomas Tawson, are you guilty or innocent of this charge?" said the Judge. "May it please your Honor," replied Thomas, "I don't want to convict myself." "All" said the Judge blandly, "then I'll save you the trouble and do it myself." Silly days."

Holmes remarks on the wonderful precision of courage that there is not even left a narrow crack under a flat black rock without a thin blade prepared by Providence to fill it. In the same way when vacancies occur in official positions.

An Icimani got out of his carriage at a railway station for refreshments, but unfortunately the bell rang and the train left before he had finished his repast. "Hold on!" cried Pat, as he ran like a madman after the car; "hold on, yo'mother cold stane logic—he's got a pass-scape ahead of left general."

The Count de Grasse was once wounded in the knee with a musket ball. The doctors cut and hacked and made many incisions when getting out of all patience, the count asked why they cut him so much. "We are seeking," said the surgeon, "for the ball." "Why don't you mention that before? I have the ball in my pocket."

One of our young men who was married didn't want to patronize the baker. He said bread tasted so much better made by her own hands. This delighted her. When she wrote a scold of end, and he suggested that she get it, as the wife would feel so much better if the meal was brought by her dear hands, she was disgusted. Women are so changeable—Doubtless.

Interesting and Useful.

The number of sheep last year in Australia was 25,400,000. It has doubled in twelve years.

Georgia has 83,215 colored persons who own property. They have 338,769 acres of land, and their property is valued at $6,000,000.

There are said to be fifty-two species of fishes which have vocal powers, some of them emitting natural sounds.

A petrified head of a walrus, or sea lion, has been dug from the sands of Sabine Island, N. S., and presented to the Provincial Museum, at Halifax, N. S.

At a sale of the Dumont autographs at Paris recently, a receipt for thirty-two crowns in gold, signed at Rome in 1848, by Francois Rabatet, was purchased for 10500.

A fellow contrived to travel free in a horse which was upon a freight train, all the way from Buffalo to San Jose, Cal. He was the first deadhead that ever rode it.

Speaking of Angora goats, the Western Ranch mentions that "many have lost large sums by purchasing at high prices," and that "last Fall a lot was sold in Illinois, some at not more than fifty cents each."

The spelling mania has reached Utica, N. Y.
At a match lately held in that city by some Welsh people, H. O. Hughes and J. O. Jones had to divide cwmw and cymw; J. Jones wanted another in amyw, while W. C. Cud put it in a piece of a cyffylorod. O. Huns-phy and D. Jones were brought down by haudyg. Owen Williams carried off the prize.

A Western Farmer states that the quality of wool may be tested by taking a lock from the sheep's back and placing it on an accurately measured inch. If the spirals count from thirty to thirty-three in the space of an inch, it equals the finest English and Saxony-wool. The di-mination of the number of folds to the inch shows inferiority.

Joseph H. Sallier, the champion in carmen England, was defeated in a skill race for $1000 a side on the Tyne, near Newcastle, a few weeks ago. His opponent, Boyd, a local celebrity at Gateshead, was by half a length, and the specators pronounced it one of the most exciting races ever run.

trying to publish a newspaper in a living
grave community," which will be readily understood by the initiated.
